Scope and Content Note

The papers of Minnie Maddern Fiske (1865-1932) and Harrison Grey Fiske (1861-1942) span the years 1818-1955, with the bulk dated 1884-1932. Minnie Maddern Fiske was a distinguished actor and proponent of the realist movement. Her manager-husband, Harrison Grey Fiske, was editor and owner of the New York Dramatic Mirror, a theatrical journal in which he attacked corruption and commercialism in the profession. The Fiskes were owners for six years of the Manhattan Theater Company, principally to support Minnie Maddern Fiske's career, and both Fiskes wrote, directed, and produced plays to critical acclaim and did much to establish the work of Norwegian playwright Henrik Ibsen on the American stage. Together, their papers provide a detailed picture of the American theater in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.
The collection is organized in eight series: Correspondence, Drama File, Scrapbooks and Newspaper Clippings, Subject File, Miscellany, Addition, Oversize, and Artifact.

The Correspondence series contains letters of many of the outstanding actors of the time, as well as distinguished figures in literature, music, and art. Among the correspondents are Gertrude Franklin Horn Atherton, J. M. Barrie, David Belasco, Daniel Chester French, Jack London, John Philip Sousa, Alexander Woollcott, and Flo Ziegfeld. In addition to managing his wife's career, Harrison Grey Fiske managed other leading actors, crusaded for an actor's fund to assist the needy, and worked to raise the standing and tone of the theater in America.

In the Drama File are play scripts and prompt books containing marginal notes made by Minnie Maddern Fiske for many of the plays in which she appeared. There are also records of box office receipts and invoices relating to the scenery, costumes, and lighting for many of the productions by the Fiskes.

The Scrapbooks and Newspaper Clippings present in great detail Minnie Maddern Fiske's life as reported by the nation's press. In addition to the numerous reviews of the plays in which she appeared, there are articles concerning her work for animal welfare causes and other phases of her public career. Harrison Grey Fiske's scrapbooks, and other files throughout the collection, document his theatrical work, performances of actors he managed, his opposition to the “theater syndicate” controlled by Charles Frohman and ticket speculators, and the 1919 strike called by the Actor's Equity Association that closed theaters in major cities for more than a month.

In the Subject File are speeches, articles, and plays written by Fiske and her husband, as well as financial and legal papers, particularly those of Harrison Grey Fiske, regarding matters related to show business such as copyright infringement and breach of contract suits. The series includes correspondence, photographs, newsletters, and other printed matter on animal welfare activities undertaken by Minnie Maddern Fiske and her support of the anti-vivisectionist movement.

Miscellany includes theatrical promotional material and memorabilia, theater programs, and set design plans. The Addition includes letters from Minnie to Harrison, an itinerary, biographical information, and a draft of an unpublished memoir by Harrison Grey Fiske recounting incidents in his life and career through the period of the 1890s. A portion of Tom Thumb's wedding cake is preserved as an artifact.

Arrangement of the Papers

The collection is arranged in eight series:

Scrapbooks and Newspaper Clippings, 1875-1946

Scrapbooks principally containing newspaper clippings, but including play programs, other printed ephemera, and correspondence. Arranged in three groups: the first relating to the career of Minnie Maddern Fiske; the second to Harrison Grey Fiske; and the last to persons in whom the Fiskes had a particular interest.

Scrapbooks pertaining to the Fiskes are arranged chronologically. Miscellaneous volumes pertaining to others others are arranged alphabetically by name of person. A fourth group of newspaper clippings is arranged chronologically.
