Provenance

The papers of James McCauley Landis, government official, lawyer, and educator, were given to the Library of Congress in 1967 to 1972 by his son-in-law, Charles C. McLaughlin and in 1974-1975 from his daughter, Ann Landis McLaughlin. Additional items were obtained from various sources between 1969 and 1977. In 2005, Landis papers which had been part of the Joseph P. Kennedy papers were transferred to the Library of Congress from the John F. Kennedy Library, Boston, Massachusetts. Donald Ritchie, who had gathered papers while working on his biography of Landis, gave additional papers to the Library in 2009.

Processing History

The papers of James McCauley Landis were arranged and described in 1968. Additional material received between 1972 and 1977 was incorporated into the collection in 1979. The Kennedy Library and Donald Ritchie materials were added and the finding aid revised in 2013.
