Arrangement

Moving image material was arranged and described as a separate series (Series 1. Moving image items) before transfer to the Packard Campus for Audio-Visual Conservation. The rest of the materials are arranged into Series 2. Photographs, manuscripts, and sound recordings. Subseries within series 2 are arranged in groupings provided by the donor with descriptions at the item-level.

Physical numbering is not always consecutive due to the varying sizes of photographic prints and manuscripts.

Acquisition

David Bromberg and Nancy Josephson; 2015.

Biographical Note

David Bromberg was born on September 19, 1945, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and raised in Tarrytown, New York. He is a multi-instrumentalist, singer, and songwriter, and has collaborated with a variety of musicians, including John Hartford, Willie Nelson, and Jerry Jeff Walker. Though he is known for the fingerpicking blues style he learned while studying under Reverend Gary Davis, Bromberg's music covers various American styles, such as bluegrass, country, jazz, and rock and roll. During a hiatus from his musical performance career, Bromberg became a violin expert, ultimately building an extensive collection of American-built violins and opening a violin sales and repair shop in Wilmington, Delaware, with his wife, Nancy Josephson.

Scope and Content

Collection of video recordings, photographs, promotional and publicity materials, clippings, posters, and ephemera from the career of David Bromberg, musician, singer-songwriter, and luthier, from around 1962 to 2013, including recordings of his performances at concerts and folk festivals around the United States as well as overseas and various interviews with Bromberg. Includes photographs of other folk music and popular music performers.
