Biographical Note

Herbert Halpert was born in New York City, August 23, 1911. He studied folklore and anthropology for his M.A. from Columbia University. During the New Deal he recorded extensive collections of folk music, songs, and tales in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and across the South for the Federal Theatre Project, the Joint Committee on Folk Arts of the Works Projects Administration (WPA), and the Library of Congress. He received his Ph.D. from Indiana University in 1942. He founded the Memorial University of Newfoundland Folklore and Language Archive (MUNFLA), and taught at the University for many years. Halpert died December 29, 2000.

Scope and Content

Sound recordings, correspondence, indexes, manuscripts, research notes, music transcriptions, photographs and photographic negatives, newspaper clippings, student papers, ephemera and other materials primarily representing the documentation and analysis of the folklore of regions of New York; New Jersey, particularly the New Jersey Pinelands region; Kentucky; Pennsylvania; Indiana; and Alaska by folklorist Herbert Halpert from the 1930s to 1950s. Includes publications edited by Herbert Halpert issued by the National Service Bureau of the WPA Federal Theater Project in New York City. Topics of Halpert's research included folk songs, folk belief, tales, legends, customs, and folklife. Includes photographs of interviewees and landscapes from the 1930s.

Description of Series

Container

Series

Series 1: Herbert Halpert's fieldwork

Previous title: Folklore: narratives, informants, and field notes

Subseries 1: Alaska

Subseries 2: Indiana

Folklore by nationality, motif, and other categories

Subseries 3: Mid-Atlantic region

Subseries 4: New Jersey

Subseries 5: New York

Subseries 6: Southern recording trip and hillbilly records

Subseries 7: Folklore from various locations

Subseries 8: Photographic materials

The photographic materials are listed in approximately the order in which they are housed within each folder. This series was processed by Carl Fleischhauer. Photo titles/captions were developed by Carl Fleischhauer and Marcia Segal, based on available information. Three photos are historic in nature, and believed to have been provided to Halpert by the informants. All others are the result of Halpert's own fieldwork.

Subseries 8: Sound recordings

Subseries 9: Inventories and documentation for recordings

Series 2: Writings and conference papers

Unless otherwise specified all writings and papers are by Herbert Halpert.

Series 3: Research and publicity

Includes newspaper clippings copies of published papers, photocopies of published works requested by Herbert Halpert for his research, and accompanying correspondence and documentation.

Series 4: Student research - Indiana, 1940-1941

Subseries 1: Student fieldwork

These are not formally-written papers. They are handwritten submissions from the students as the folklore collectors and/or informants. This subseries was received with papers organized alphabetically by student surname.

Subseries 2: Classified belief slips

The order of groupings has been maintained from the order in which the materials were received.

Series 5: Student research - Kentucky

Some of the student papers are from classes taught by Violetta Halpert.

Subseries 1: Administrative documentation and publications

Subseries 2: American Folklore

Subseries 3: Mythology

Subseries 4: Folklore

Subseries 5: Special/folklore contributions

Subseries 6: Work files/classified files (tales, legends, customs), 1948-1957, undated

The files within each of these sub-subseries have been kept in their original order, as received from the donor. While the folklore of other states is included in this subseries, the majority of the material pertains to Kentucky.

Subseries 7: Classified files (folk custom, folklife), circa 1948-1957

Subseries 8: Work files

Half-sheets of paper originally used as an index file/ready-reference system.

Subseries 8: Photographic materials

The photographic materials are listed in approximately the order in which they are housed within each folder. This series was processed by Carl Fleischhauer. Photo titles/captions were developed by Carl Fleischhauer and Marcia Segal, based on available information. Three photos are historic in nature, and believed to have been provided to Halpert by the informants. All others are the result of Halpert's own fieldwork.
