Collection Summary

Title: Fox Movietone newsreel papers

Inclusive Dates: 1919-1971

Bulk Dates: (1928-1971)

Creator: Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation

Extent: approximately 1,841,800 items

Extent: 1,998 containers

Extent: 1,780 linear feet

Language: Collection material in English

Location: Moving Image Research Center, National Audio-Visual Conservation Center, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

LC Catalog record: <https://lccn.loc.gov/2023602550>

Summary: Cameramen's dope sheets (detailed notes of stories filmed), continuity sheets (synopses of newsreels distributed to theaters), turnovers (one sentence descriptions of each story filmed), and library index cards from this major pioneer in the newsreel industry. Collection also contains other paper materials including telegrams, speeches, photographs, programs, and memoranda that provide details of the newsreels created by Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation. Although the entire Fox Movietone newsreel collection spans 1919-1971, the materials documenting the World War II period are in a companion finding aid.

Provenance

Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation deposited the collection at the Library of Congress in 2003.

Accruals

No further accruals are expected.

Processing History

Some time between 2003 and 2005, Vidipax, a magnetic media restoration company, was hired to rehouse materials from their original storage in steel filing cabinets to acid-free archival document boxes. Presumably at this time, photocopies of some documents throughout the collection were made.

Further processing occurred between 2005 and 2007 during a cooperative project between the Library of Congress and the University of South Carolina. The Newsfilm Library of the University of South Carolina owns a discrete portion of the paper records included in this finding aid. Specifically, the dope sheets from approximately August 1942 to January 1945 are housed at the University of South Carolina. Please see the Scope and Content Note for more information about these materials.

Processing of the collection resumed in 2022. The dope sheets, continuity sheets, turnovers, and index cards for the sound (Movietone) era have been processed and are described in this finding aid. The materials remaining to be processed as of 2024 include the dope sheets for the silent (Fox News) era, and the business and financial records of the Movietone news library. Description of these materials will be added to the finding aid as processing is completed.

Most story numbers are filed individually. However, an individual story or event could be recorded by multiple cameramen. Therefore, an individual story could be recorded by multiple story numbers. If more than one story number was clipped together when received, they were foldered together when processed. Additionally, if a story had ephemeral material clipped to it, these items were foldered together with the story when processed.

Additional Guides

Dope sheets, continuity sheets, and turnovers from circa 1941-1946 were separately processed from 2005-2007 with funding provided by the University of South Carolina Newsfilm Library as part of a collaborative project with the Library of Congress, which are described in the finding aid, Fox Movietone Newsreel Collection--World War II Paper Records, 1922-1946.

Scope and Content Note

Cameramen's dope sheets (detailed notes of stories filmed), continuity sheets (synopses of newsreels distributed to theaters), and turnovers (one sentence descriptions of each story filmed) from this major pioneer in the newsreel industry. Collection also contains other paper materials including telegrams, speeches, photographs, programs, and memoranda that provide details of the newsreels created by Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation. Although the entire Fox Movietone newsreel collection spans 1919-1971, the materials documenting the World War II period are in a companion finding aid.

This collection is organized into four series: Dope Sheets, Continuity Sheets, Turnovers, and Index Cards. The Continuity Sheets Series is organized into two subseries: Lavenders and Summaries.

The first series, Dope Sheets, 1919-1971, contains the most detail for all stories filmed. They can include the cameraman's name, their notations of story topic, location where the story was shot, dates surrounding the filming, principal personalities in the story, shot-by-shot descriptions of the story, environmental conditions during filming, length of footage shot, and other details germane to the story and its filming. Ancillary materials may also be found within each story and can include photographs, telegrams, news clippings, speeches, biographies of personalities, and event programs. The Dope sheets are arranged numerically, with each film assigned a unique story number. Prominent figures are frequently featured in these materials. Material from the silent era has not been processed as of 2024, and will be added to this series at a later date.

The second series, Continuity Sheets, 1919-1963, is organized into two subseries: Lavenders and Summaries. Continuity Sheets record the stories that made up the newsreels distributed to theaters, and the dates of distribution. They do not include all stories filmed. They provide synopses of the details included in the Dope Sheets. What differentiates the two subseries is: Lavenders supply the individual story numbers that create the newsreel; Summaries supply the footage length of each finished newsreel segment. Continuity Sheets are arranged in chronological order, with a volume and release number assigned to each distribution date.

The third series, Turnovers, 1928-1971, is organized by year, then date distributed to theaters, with a volume and release number assigned to each distribution date. For each distribution sheet, a list of story numbers, a one-sentence description for each story number, and the cameraman or creator for each story is listed. In addition, each turnover sheet separates the stories that were included in newsreels from those that were not. Scanning this series for specific stories is a good place for researchers to begin, if one knows the approximate date of the story sought. No turnovers from 1951 and 1954 are present in the collection.

The fourth series, Index Cards, is organized into subseries by category, then alphabetically or sequentially, according to type. Within a given category, the Fox Movietone library contained often 2 or 3 separate ranges across different file cabinets; these ranges have not been interfiled, so researchers should check each range to ensure a complete index.

Collection Arrangement

The collection is arranged in 4 series:

- Series I. Dope Sheets, 1919-1971
- Series II. Continuity Sheets, 1919-1963
- Series III. Turnovers, 1928-1971
- Series IV. Index Cards

Series

Series I. Dope Sheets, 1919-1971, bulk 1931-1971

Cameramen's details of films shot, including dates, locations, subjects, length of footage. Story numbers may contain ancillary materials including photographs, news clippings, speeches, event programs, telegrams, and biographies.

Arranged numerically by story number assigned to each film created. Separated oversized materials are listed at the end of this series.

Series II. Continuity Sheets, 1919-1963

Synopses of newsreels distributed to theaters. The boxes and folders that contain the Lavenders subseries of materials are heavy due to enclosing the majority of documents in Mylar for protection.

Arranged chronologically, with volume and release numbers.

Lavenders, 1933-1949, 1952-1963

Includes individual story number(s) that make up each newsreel.

Arranged chronologically, with volume and release numbers.

Summaries, 1919-1947, 1952-1956

Includes length of footage contained on each newsreel.

Arranged chronologically, with volume and release numbers.

Series III. Turnovers, 1928-1971

Turnovers provide a one sentence description of each story filmed, and the cameraman or creator who filmed it. They also distinguish which stories were used to create each newsreel, the date the newsreels were distributed to theaters, and which stories were vaulted.

Arranged chronologically, with story numbers and volume and release numbers.

Series II. Continuity Sheets, 1919-1963

Synopses of newsreels distributed to theaters. The boxes and folders that contain the Lavenders subseries of materials are heavy due to enclosing the majority of documents in Mylar for protection.

Arranged chronologically, with volume and release numbers.

Series III. Turnovers, 1928-1971

Turnovers provide a one sentence description of each story filmed, and the cameraman or creator who filmed it. They also distinguish which stories were used to create each newsreel, the date the newsreels were distributed to theaters, and which stories were vaulted.

Arranged chronologically, with story numbers and volume and release numbers.
