Acquisition Information

The papers of James Gillespie Blaine, senator and representative from Maine and secretary of state were deposited in the Library of Congress in 1935 by his daughters, Margaret Blaine Damrosch and Harriet Blaine Beale. The deposit was converted to a gift later that same year. Another installment was given in 1969 by Blaine's granddaughter, Anita Damrosch Littell. Small additions have been made by gift and purchase from 1967 through 1990.

Processing History

The papers of James Gillespie Blaine were arranged and described in 1970 by Frank Tusa. An addition was processed in 1981. A few items received in 1990 were processed in 1999 and added to the additions series. The finding aid was revised in 2001, by Connie L. Cartledge, to document a transfer of newspaper volumes to another division of the Library of Congress. The finding aid was updated in 2023 by Maria Farmer as part of a division-wide remediation project by the Inclusive Description Working Group.

Transfers

Items have been transferred from the Manuscript Division to other custodial divisions of the Library. Photographs have been transferred to the Prints and Photographs Division. Newspapers have been transferred to the Serial and Government Publications Division. All transfers are identified in these divisions as part of the James Gillespie Blaine Papers.

Copyright Status

The status of copyright in the unpublished writings of James Gillespie Blaine and members of his family is governed by the Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17, U.S.C.).

Access and Restrictions

The papers of James Gillespie Blaine are open to research. Researchers are advised to contact the Manuscript Reading Room prior to visiting. Many collections are stored off-site and advance notice is needed to retrieve these items for research use.

Microfilm

A microfilm edition of the first forty-seven containers of these papers is available on twenty reels from the Library's Photoduplication Service for purchase subject to the Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17, U.S.C.). Reel twenty-one, which includes the newspapers transferred to the Serial and Government Publications Division, is also available for purchase. Consult reference staff in the Manuscript Division concerning availability for purchase or interlibrary loan. To promote preservation of the originals, researchers are required to consult the microfilm edition as available.

Scope and Content Note

The family papers of James Gillespie Blaine (1830-1893) span the years 1777-1945, with the bulk of the material concentrated in the years 1870-1892. The collection consists of diaries, memoirs, correspondence, speeches, writings, notebooks, scrapbooks, and miscellaneous material. Except for a small Addition series, the entire collection was microfilmed in the order of its arrangement in 1976.

The Blaine Family Papers focus largely on James G. Blaine. His letters in the Family Correspondence series are addressed mainly to his wife, Harriet Stanwood Blaine; his mother, Maria Louise Gillespie Blaine; his oldest son, Walker Blaine; and his secretary, Thomas H. Sherman. The letters principally concern personal and family matters, but political references are scattered throughout. Blaine served two presidents as secretary of state, and there is a significant amount of correspondence written while he was traveling in Europe in 1867.

In the General Correspondence series, the presidential campaign of 1884 is treated in depth, and virtually all major issues of the period receive attention. A small portion of the correspondence deals with foreign policy and diplomacy, especially concerning Latin America. The series also provides insight into Blaine's business activities. Included in the correspondence are condolences conveyed to Blaine upon the death of his son, Walker, in 1890 and the death of his son, Emmons, in 1892. Among the correspondents are William B. Allison, George S. Boutwell, Benjamin H. Bristow, Edwin C. Burleigh, Benjamin F. Butler, J. D. Cameron, Simon Cameron, Andrew Carnegie, William E. Chandler, Zachariah Chandler, George William Childs, Schuyler Colfax, Alonzo B. Cornell, Samuel Sullivan Cox, Stephen B. Elkins, William Maxwell Evarts, Thomas Ewing, Cyrus W. Field, Hamilton Fish, Charles R. Flint, Patrick Ford, Charles Foster, James A. Garfield, Lucretia Rudolph Garfield, George Congdon Gorham, Ulysses S. Grant, Horace Greeley, Galusha A. Grow, Eugene Hale, Murat Halstead, Hannibal Hamlin, John Marshall Harlan, Benjamin Harrison, John Hay, Rutherford Birchard Hayes, Phineas Warren Hitchcock, E. R. Hoar, George Frisbie Hoar, O. O. Howard, Timothy A. Howe, Henry M. Hoyt, William H. Hunt, Robert Green Ingersoll, Robert Todd Lincoln, Henry Cabot Lodge, John Alexander Logan, Alexander K. McClure, William McKinley, Edward McPherson, Joseph Medill, Warner Miller, Edwin D. Morgan, Justin S. Morrill, Lot M. Morrill, Baron Julian Pauncefote, William Walter Phelps, Wendell Phillips, Thomas B. Reed, Whitelaw Reid, Horace Rublee, Robert Cumming Schenck, Ellen Ewing Sherman, John Sherman, William T. Sherman, Charles E. Smith, William Henry Trescott, Israel Washburn, Elihu B. Washburne, Thurlow Weed, William Windom, and Fernando Wood.

Scrapbooks in the collection relate almost entirely to Blaine's public activities during the years 1873 to 1893. Speeches and writings elucidate his views on many public issues and include a draft of his book Twenty Years in Congress. Financial matter in the Miscellany series documents his extensive business activities and includes a record of his assets at his death. Also in the financial records is an account book kept by Walker Blaine while on a diplomatic mission to South America from 1881 to 1882.

Much information on the family is located in the Diaries and Memoirs, Notebooks, and Family Correspondence series. Especially valuable is Harriet Stanwood Blaine's memoir of President James A. Garfield's assassination. The first part of the Family Correspondence includes a small group of letters sent and received by Blaine's father, Ephraim L. Blaine, and his grandfather, Ephraim Blaine, a prominent figure in the American Revolution. The second part of the Family Correspondence consists of letters to Blaine from his immediate family and letters exchanged among family members. The majority of the letters are written by Harriet Stanwood Blaine, Walker Blaine, and Blaine's daughter, Margaret Blaine Damrosch. The letters relate mainly to personal and family matters, although Walker Blaine often wrote of political and diplomatic topics, especially while in South America from 1881 to 1882. Letters received by family members from outside the family circle constitute the remaining part of the Family Correspondence. The letters to Harriet Stanwood Blaine from William E. Chandler and Lucretia Rudolph Garfield and to Walker Blaine from William Henry Trescott are particularly revealing. Other prominent correspondents include Chester Alan Arthur, Andrew Carnegie, James A. Garfield, Bret Harte, John Hay, William McKinley, Rachel Sherman, and William T. Sherman.

The autograph collection in the Miscellany series contains several items of historical interest, including letters of Benjamin Franklin, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Benjamin Vaughan, and Daniel Webster, two letters of W. E. Gladstone, Abraham Lincoln's endorsement on the back of a Blaine letter, and a copy of a letter of George Washington. The collection also includes twelve pages of holograph notes of Henry Clay, 11 May-9 June 1815, relating to an Anglo-American commercial convention, a two-page holograph fragment of Clay's address on the occasion of his resignation as speaker of the House of Representatives, four pages of James Madison's holograph notes for a speech at the Richmond Convention of 1829-1830 to revise Virginia's constitution, and an autograph of John Quincy Adams.

A small Additions series contains family correspondence pertaining to James G. Blaine and others, 1776-1932, as well as general correspondence and miscellaneous items.

Organization of the Papers

The collection is arranged in nine series:
