Biographical Note

Moreton Frewen was born in England in 1853, the fifth son of Thomas Frewen, a member of the landed gentry, and was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge University, where he graduated in 1877. He emigrated to Wyoming during the cattle boom in the 1870s and 1880s. In 1881 he married Clarita Jerome, daughter of an American financier and sister to Lady Randolph Spencer Churchill. They settled on a ranch in Wyoming before returning to England, where he wrote on economic issues and became an advocate of tariff reform and bimetallism. He also became active in Irish affairs and was elected to Parliament in 1910. He died in 1924.

Scope and Content Note

The papers of Moreton Frewen (1853-1924) span the years 1823-1934. The collection consists of correspondence, speeches and extracts of writings, photographs, newspaper clippings, and other printed matter documenting Frewen's activities in business ventures or government service in England, the American West, Hyderabad, Kenya, Ireland, Mexico, China, Canada, and Australia. The collection is organized into three series: Subject File, Chronological File, and Miscellany. An appendix to the finding aid consists of an index of selected correspondence and documents.

Frewen corresponded with royalty, noblemen, diplomats, American and British political and social leaders, writers, poets, journalists, financiers, industrial magnates, and others. Included in the collection are some family letters. Topics in the correspondence relate primarily to bimetallism and other currency affairs of the British Empire and United States. Other papers concern tariff matters, imperial preference, world trade, and Frewen's period in Parliament as member from Cork, Ireland. Correspondents include Arthur James Balfour; William Jennings Bryan; Sir Austen Chamberlain; Lord Randolph Henry Spencer Churchill; Henry George Grey, Lord Grey; James K. Jones; Rudyard Kipling; Henry Cabot Lodge; and Charles Richard John Spencer Churchill, Duke of Marlborough. Also included is correspondence and journals kept by his brother, Richard Frewen, during an 1872 tour of Europe and the Middle East and an around the world journey, 1873-1876.

Arrangement of the Papers

Appendix A: Index of Selected Correspondence and Documents

This is a selected list, made without an absolute frame of reference for selection. Not all persons of royalty or gentry or business or politics appear, and the presence of a letter does not assure great historical importance. Many family letters, which are seldom listed, contain references of much interest. The list, however, offers some advantages by citing the frequency and span of correspondence of many widely recognized persons. If a particular letter is sought, it can usually be found in the Chronological File by date, but occasionally in folders labeled "Not dated" or "Combined Letters."
