Transfers

Sound recordings from the Elinor Remick Warren Papers have been transferred to the Library of Congress Motion Picture, Broadcasting and Recorded Sound Division. An inventory of this material is available in the Music Division's collection files.

Other Repositories

Warren's collection of poetry books (the volumes containing Warren's annotations) and the majority of her annotated music books on composition and orchestration were given to the New York Public Library around 1994, by the composer's children, with the Elinor Remick Warren Society (liaison: Virginia Bortin) acting on their behalf. Lists of these books are available in the Music Division's collection files.

Shortly before Warren's death in 1991, she sent the New York Public Library a complete collection of all of her published materials, with final edits and corrections. The Curtis Institute of Music's Library has Warren's non-annotated poetry books. In addition, Warren placed edited scores and parts for all of her works for and with orchestra, and her smaller works for voice, piano or chorus with the Edwin A. Fleisher Collection of Orchestral Music, the Free Library of Philadelphia.

Scope and Content Note

The Elinor Remick Warren Papers span the years 1872-2004 with the bulk of the materials dating from 1918-1991. The papers are in English and French and are organized into the following series: Music, Business Papers, Writings, Correspondence, Photographs, Articles about Warren, Biographical Materials, Programs, Publicity Materials, Scrapbooks, Books, and Miscellany.

The Music Series chiefly contains manuscript and printed scores, parts, and sketches for works by Warren, as well as printed scores by other composers with annotations in Warren's hand. The manuscripts and printed editions of Warren's works represent a nearly complete archive of her compositions. Warren often arranged her works for several different voices and/or ensembles; an extensive number of these arrangements are included in the collection. There are also Warren's composition notebooks, including one written when she was studying with Nadia Boulanger in Paris. Printed editions of her works also may contain her annotations. She also frequently revised her works, sometimes over several decades. Her manuscripts and printed editions are full of annotations, corrections and notes that document these revisions.

The Business Papers Series contains catalogue listings of manuscript and published works, contracts, publisher and copyright correspondence, records pertaining to performances of Warren's works, and royalties statements. The first subseries consists of notebooks with data related to her original compositions, including information on public performances; the second, ASCAP correspondence and royalties statements; the third, correspondence regarding commercial recordings of Warren's works; the fourth, contracts, royalty agreements, and reinstatement documents; the fifth, copyright and renewal documents for each work; the sixth, correspondence related to Warren's gift of published orchestral works and other material to the Edwin A. Fleisher Collection, at the Free Library of Philadelphia; the seventh, music publisher correspondence, including copyright re-assignments and royalties statements; and the eighth, correspondence with poets and their estates, and literary publishers seeking permission for use of poems for her texts.

The Writings Series contains articles, essays and program notes by Warren, her personal and travel diaries, original poems and annotated poems of others, speeches, recording notes, repertoire lists, and her scripts for classical music appreciation radio programs hosted by or featuring Warren that aired from 1938-1939.

The Correspondence Series contains letters to or from friends, performers, conductors, or music publishers and professional music organizations. Regrettably, Warren weeded her correspondence files in 1955, discarding most of her earlier material, believing the letters to be of no future interest.

The Photographs Series contains images of Warren alone, 1901-1990; Warren with family, 1928-1982, and Warren's parents at the time of their wedding (1895); Warren with others (mostly well-known musical personalities); and inscribed photographs from well-known musical personalities, most of whom played a role in her career.

The Articles about Warren Series contains entries for biographical dictionaries and encyclopedias, and articles and clippings related to Warren's personal life, works, and performances.

The Biographical Materials Series contains awards, certificates and honors, several autobiographical essays, an interview transcript by Virginia Bortin, a list of premieres of Warren's works, address and telephone books, and other miscellaneous writings and items.

The Programs Series contains concert programs that feature Warren as a composer, as a soloist, or as an accompanist.

The Publicity Materials Series chiefly contains music publisher catalogs listing Warren's works, reviews, and other advertisements.

The Scrapbooks Series consists of Warren's personal scrapbooks, each containing press clippings, reviews, programs featuring Warren's works or Warren as pianist, assisting artist, or accompanist, articles about Warren's professional and private life, and other materials. Scrapbooks documenting Warren's early career were disposed of by Warren shortly after her mother's death in 1958, believing that there would be no historical interest in retaining them. Later, the earliest scrapbooks (pre-1936) were re-constructed from duplicate clippings, reviews, programs, etc. still found in Warren's possessions, which were photocopied and re-assembled into a scrapbook.

The majority of Warren's collection of music-related books and her extensive library of poetry books were gifted to the New York Public Library, circa 1994, prior to the family's final decision to donate the collection to the Library of Congress. These books in the Books Series are annotated by Warren or represent rare printings of works pertaining to her family's history. Several poetry books contain Warren's annotations, fragments of musical notation, and other markings on poems that became settings for her songs.

The Miscellany Series includes a small notebook, containing various composition aids and tips; a tour guidebook of Israel, dated 1975; a metal printer's plate of the title page to Warren's printed score of Abram in Egypt; a watercolor painting of Abram in Egypt; a poster of Warren's Requiem; and a small envelope containing unused Elinor Remick Warren bookplates.

Series

Music, circa 1872-2004

Chiefly manuscript and printed scores, parts, and sketches for works by Warren, as well as printed scores by other composers with annotations in Warren's hand. The manuscripts and printed editions of Warren's works represent a nearly complete archive of her compositions. Warren often arranged her works for several different voices and/or ensembles; an extensive number of these arrangements are included in the collection. She also frequently revised her works, sometimes over several decades. As such, many of her scores are full of annotations, corrections, and notes that document these revisions.

Organized as two subseries. Works by Warren are arranged by title. The final version of each work is listed first, with alternate versions, later arrangements, etc. listed afterwards. Works by other composers are arranged alphabetically by composer surname, and by title therein.

BOX 76-83

Business Papers, 1919-1997

Catalogue listings of manuscript and published works, contracts, publisher and copyright correspondence, records pertaining to performances of Warren's works, and royalties statements. The first subseries consists of notebooks with data related to her original compositions; the second, ASCAP correspondence and royalties statements; the third, correspondence regarding commercial recordings of Warren's works; the fourth, contracts, royalty agreements, and reinstatement documents; the fifth, copyright/renewal documents for each work; the sixth, correspondence related to Warren's gift of published orchestral works and other material to the Edwin A. Fleisher Collection, at the Free Library of Philadelphia; the seventh, music publisher correspondence, including copyright re-assignments and royalties statements; and the eighth, correspondence with poets/estates and literary publishers seeking permission for use of poems for her texts.

Organized as eight subseries. Each is arranged alphabetically by title or subject, then chronologically therein.

Writings, 1912-1991

Articles, diaries, essays, program notes, original poems and annotated poems of others, speeches, recording notes, repertoire lists, and radio scripts for classical music appreciation programs hosted by or featuring Warren that aired from 1938-1939.

Organized as five subseries. Entries are arranged either alphabetically or chronologically therein.

Articles, Essays, Poems, and Speeches, 1918-1990

Warren wrote a number of articles and essays on several topics, ranging from composer commentaries on specific works, such as her The Legend of King Arthur, to articles that expressed her thoughts on women in music. Other writings include addresses and speeches, a poem, and written descriptions of musical works.

Diaries, 1912-1991

Warren compiled several travel diaries during her long life. Beginning at the age of 12, she developed a life-long habit of documenting each European trip in the form of a daily diary. Her earliest diary documents her first trip abroad in which she first heard Wagner's Ring at Munich; subsequent trips detail her encounters with leading musicians and her experiences with her teacher Nadia Boulanger, whom she visited several times. Other diaries recount her experiences with performances of her works. Included as well are four general diaries from 1988-1991 that document her daily activities and contain miscellaneous records such as household-related data and health records.

Arranged chronologically.

Program Notes, undated

Warren wrote her own program notes, revising them to conform to type of audience or venue. Her master copies of surviving program notes are found here, along with occasional brief notes related to revisions.

Arranged alphabetically by title of work.

Radio Broadcast Scripts, 1938-1939

Scripts for three programs, all broadcast between 1938-1939, in which Warren either appeared as guest or host. These include Presenting the American Composer, D.A.R. American Artists Series Program, and the Elinor Remick Warren Program.

Recording Notes, 1960-1966, 1991

Several commercial recordings were issued between 1963 and 1993 that featured Warren's works. Warren provided detailed liner notes for commercial LPs, cassettes and compact disc insert booklets for these recordings. An additional recording of works by Lili Boulanger is also included as Warren made several annotations on the record jacket.

Arranged chronologically by date of original issue.

Correspondence, circa 1910-1991

Letters to or from friends, performers, conductors, or music publishers and professional music organizations. Regrettably, Warren weeded her correspondence files in 1955, discarding most of her earlier material, believing the letters to be of no future interest.

Arranged alphabetically by name of correspondent/organization, then chronologically therein.

BOX 1-50, 85	Music , circa 1872-2004 Chiefly manuscript and printed scores, parts, and sketches for works by Warren, as well as printed scores by other composers with annotations in Warren's hand. The manuscripts and printed editions of Warren's works represent a nearly complete archive of her compositions. Warren often arranged her works for several different voices and/or ensembles; an extensive number of these arrangements are included in the collection. She also frequently revised her works, sometimes over several decades. As such, many of her scores are full of annotations, corrections, and notes that document these revisions. Organized as two subseries. Works by Warren are arranged by title. The final version of each work is listed first, with alternate versions, later arrangements, etc. listed afterwards. Works by other composers are arranged alphabetically by composer surname, and by title therein. Works by Warren

BOX-FOLDER 14/1-3	The Legend of King Arthur ; mixed chorus (SATB), tenor and baritone soloists, orchestra. Manuscript orchestral parts (older revision) Text: Alfred Tennyson.
BOX-FOLDER 15/1	The original folders for this set of orchestral parts was labeled "older revision." The Legend of King Arthur ; mixed chorus (SATB), tenor and baritone soloists, piano reduction. New York: H. W. Gray Company, Inc., 1939. Piano-vocal score. Text: Alfred Tennyson. Bound score has the earlier title The Passing of King Arthur . Accompanying note from Bortin: "Score has numerous annotations (and notation of motives) for the later 1974 edition." Warren also made notes regarding the length of applause that followed the 1954 performance by the Roger Wagner Chorale.
BOX-FOLDER 15/2	The Legend of King Arthur ; mixed chorus (SATB), tenor and baritone soloists, piano reduction. New York: Carl Fischer, Inc., 1974. Piano-vocal score. Text: Alfred Tennyson. At the time the 1974 piano-vocal score was published, Warren gave the publisher all of her changes, corrections, etc. which were incorporated into the 1974 edition; she also changed the title from "Passing" to "Legend" at this time. Warren's reason for the title change: the work as she had envisaged it combined a very descriptive and atmospheric first half with a more spiritual second half, the entire work not being solely occupied with the king's "passing".

Diaries, 1912-1991

Warren compiled several travel diaries during her long life. Beginning at the age of 12, she developed a life-long habit of documenting each European trip in the form of a daily diary. Her earliest diary documents her first trip abroad in which she first heard Wagner's Ring at Munich; subsequent trips detail her encounters with leading musicians and her experiences with her teacher Nadia Boulanger, whom she visited several times. Other diaries recount her experiences with performances of her works. Included as well are four general diaries from 1988-1991 that document her daily activities and contain miscellaneous records such as household-related data and health records.

Arranged chronologically.

BOX-FOLDER 63/1	Travel diary, Apr. 22 - Dec. 1912 (Photocopy) Warren, her parents and grandmother left for Europe, traveling abroad for seven months. The family toured France, Italy, Austria, Germany (Dresden; Munich), Switzerland, Holland and England. Highlights of this trip, per Warren's diary: attendance at concerts of Wagner's Ring cycle (Munich), Lohengrin (Paris Opera)
BOX-FOLDER 63/2	Travel diary, Apr. 9 - June 2, 1953 Extended trip to Europe; visited London, England, France (Paris; Nice; Chaumont), Italy (Montecatini; Florence; Venice; Cernobbio) and Switzerland (Lucerne; Zurich). Pocket diary documented their day-to-day activities and experiences.
BOX-FOLDER 63/3	Travel diary, Sept. 14 - Oct. 8, 1967 Warren and her husband traveled to Monte Carlo for the memorable 80th birthday celebration of Nadia Boulanger (September 30th), hosted by Prince Rainer and Princess Grace of Monaco. A pocket diary documented their day-to-day activities and their experiences at the anniversary event.
BOX-FOLDER 63/4	Travel diary, Sept. 8 - Oct. 13, 1971 Warren traveled to Europe with visit to Moscow. A sampling of the trip's itinerary included Finland (Helsinki), Soviet Union (Leningrad; Moscow), Czechoslovakia (Prague; Zagreb), Yugoslavia (Belgrade), France (Paris). While in Paris, Nadia Boulanger hosted a dinner party at her home in Warren's honor. Warren notated the trip directly onto their trip itinerary, adding comments regarding their activities.
BOX-FOLDER 63/5	Travel itinerary (Travel diary), Feb. 17 - Mar. 8, 1973 Warren and her husband traveled to Central/South America including Panama (Canal Zone), Brazil (Rio de Janeiro, South Africa (Johannesburg, Cape Town, Durban) Zululand (Hluhluwe), Kenya, Swaziland (Mbabane, Mala Mala), and Portugal

Radio Broadcast Scripts, 1938-1939

Scripts for three programs, all broadcast between 1938-1939, in which Warren either appeared as guest or host. These include Presenting the American Composer, D.A.R. American Artists Series Program, and the Elinor Remick Warren Program.

- BOX-FOLDER 65/20 Presenting the American Composer (broadcast originated from Los Angeles over the Mutual Don Lee Network), April 8, 1938
Warren appeared on this show several months prior to hosting her own classical music program. The program appeared on April 8, 1938, 8:30 pm to 9:00 pm. The show

- was created by Frederick Stark, described as being an authority and champion of native composers; the annotator (interviewer) was Merle Armitage. The program was produced by Z. Wayne Griffin (Elinor Warren's husband) and was announced by Franklin Bingman.
- Warren discussed Frolic of the elves and By a fireside and accompanied vocalist Ruth Felt in a performance of her song Who calls?. The studio orchestra then played Warren's work The Fountain, conducted by Frederick Stark.
- BOX-FOLDER 65/21 D.A.R. American Artists Series Program (broadcast originated from Los Angeles over the Mutual Don Lee Network), December 18, 1938
- This program was the first of a series of musical programs arranged by the Hollywood Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The featured artists on this broadcast were Warren and Ruthellen Miller, soprano. It was broadcast at 2:30 - 2:45 pm over the KHJ network. The program consisted of five of Warren's art songs: Who calls?; Snow towards evening; Down in the glen; Come away; and My parting gift.
- Arranged chronologically by date.
- Elinor Remick Warren Program* (broadcast originated from Los Angeles over the Mutual Don Lee Network), October 30, 1938 - March 5, 1939
- Broadcast Sunday afternoons at 4:00-4:30 pm. Warren hosted the show, wrote the scripts, selected the music featured on each program, and conducted her programs from the piano, where she often played selections. This music appreciation program's scripts are listed in chronological order, along with details regarding the musical selections played during each broadcast. Most of the broadcast scripts contain annotations, corrections and revisions to content; such changes were often done approximately two days prior to the broadcast.

Recording Notes, 1960-1966, 1991

Several commercial recordings were issued between 1963 and 1993 that featured Warren's works. Warren provided detailed liner notes for commercial LPs, cassettes and compact disc insert booklets for these recordings. An additional recording of works by Lili Boulanger is also included as Warren made several annotations on the record jacket. Arranged chronologically by date of original issue.

- BOX-FOLDER 65/41 Works of Lili Boulanger (world premiere recording): Everest Records SDBR 3099 March 1960
The record inner sleeve notes contain annotations and other markings by Warren. Although Warren had no direct involvement with this recording, she had studied with Lili's surviving sister, Nadia Boulanger, at Paris the previous year (1959). The liner notes contain Warren's annotations, including a few musical notations.
