Processing History
The Elinor Remick Warren Papers were processed by George Kipper, music specialist, in 2014. George Kipper coded the finding aid for EAD format in 2014.

Transfers
Sound recordings from the Elinor Remick Warren Papers have been transferred to the Library of Congress Motion Picture, Broadcasting and Recorded Sound Division. An inventory of this material is available in the Music Division's collection files.

Other Repositories
Warren's collection of poetry books (the volumes containing Warren's annotations) and the majority of her annotated music books on composition and orchestration were given to the New York Public Library around 1994, by the composer's children, with the Elinor Remick Warren Society (liaison: Virginia Bortin) acting on their behalf. Lists of these books are available in the Music Division's collection files.

Shortly before Warren's death in 1991, she sent the New York Public Library a complete collection of all of her published materials, with final edits and corrections. The Curtis Institute of Music's Library has Warren's non-annotated poetry books. In addition, Warren placed edited scores and parts for all of her works for and with orchestra, and her smaller works for voice, piano or chorus with the Edwin A. Fleisher Collection of Orchestral Music, the Free Library of Philadelphia.
Copyright Status

Scope and Content Note

The Elinor Remick Warren Papers span the years 1872-2004 with the bulk of the materials dating from 1918-1991. The papers are in English and French and are organized into the following series: Music, Business Papers, Writings, Correspondence, Photographs, Articles about Warren, Biographical Materials, Programs, Publicity Materials, Scrapbooks, Books, and Miscellany.

The Music Series chiefly contains manuscript and printed scores, parts, and sketches for works by Warren, as well as printed scores by other composers with annotations in Warren's hand. The manuscripts and printed editions of Warren's works represent a nearly complete archive of her compositions. Warren often arranged her works for several different voices and/or ensembles; an extensive number of these arrangements are included in the collection. There are also Warren's composition notebooks, including one written when she was studying with Nadia Boulanger in Paris. Printed editions of her works also may contain her annotations. She also frequently revised her works, sometimes over several decades. Her manuscripts and printed editions are full of annotations, corrections and notes that document these revisions.

The Business Papers Series contains catalogue listings of manuscript and published works, contracts, publisher and copyright correspondence, records pertaining to performances of Warren's works, and royalties statements. The first subseries consists of notebooks with data related to her original compositions, including information on public performances; the second, ASCAP correspondence and royalties statements; the third, correspondence regarding commercial recordings of Warren's works; the fourth, contracts, royalty agreements, and reinstatement documents; the fifth, copyright and renewal documents for each work; the sixth, correspondence related to Warren's gift of published orchestral works and other material to the Edwin A. Fleisher Collection, at the Free Library of Philadelphia; the seventh, music publisher correspondence, including copyright re-assignments and royalties statements; and the eighth, correspondence with poets and their estates, and literary publishers seeking permission for use of poems for her texts.

The Writings Series contains articles, essays and program notes by Warren, her personal and travel diaries, original poems and annotated poems of others, speeches, recording notes, repertoire lists, and her scripts for classical music appreciation radio programs hosted by or featuring Warren that aired from 1938-1939.
The Correspondence Series contains letters to or from friends, performers, conductors, or music publishers and professional music organizations. Regrettably, Warren weeded her correspondence files in 1955, discarding most of her earlier material, believing the letters to be of no future interest.

The Photographs Series contains images of Warren alone, 1901-1990; Warren with family, 1928-1982, and Warren's parents at the time of their wedding (1895); Warren with others (mostly well-known musical personalities); and inscribed photographs from well-known musical personalities, most of whom played a role in her career.

The Articles about Warren Series contains entries for biographical dictionaries and encyclopedias, and articles and clippings related to Warren's personal life, works, and performances.

The Biographical Materials Series contains awards, certificates and honors, several autobiographical essays, an interview transcript by Virginia Bortin, a list of premieres of Warren's works, address and telephone books, and other miscellaneous writings and items.

The Programs Series contains concert programs that feature Warren as a composer, as a soloist, or as an accompanist.

The Publicity Materials Series chiefly contains music publisher catalogs listing Warren's works, reviews, and other advertisements.

The Scrapbooks Series consists of Warren's personal scrapbooks, each containing press clippings, reviews, programs featuring Warren's works or Warren as pianist, assisting artist, or accompanist, articles about Warren's professional and private life, and other materials. Scrapbooks documenting Warren's early career were disposed of by Warren shortly after her mother's death in 1958, believing that there would be no historical interest in retaining them. Later, the earliest scrapbooks (pre-1936) were re-constructed from duplicate clippings, reviews, programs, etc. still found in Warren's possessions, which were photocopied and re-assembled into a scrapbook.

The majority of Warren's collection of music-related books and her extensive library of poetry books were gifted to the New York Public Library, circa 1994, prior to the family's final decision to donate the collection to the Library of Congress. These books in the Books Series are annotated by Warren or represent rare printings of works pertaining to her family's history. Several poetry books contain Warren's annotations, fragments of musical notation, and other markings on poems that became settings for her songs.

The Miscellaneous Series includes a small notebook, containing various composition aids and tips; a tour guidebook of Israel, dated 1975; a metal printer's plate of the title page to Warren's printed score of Abram in Egypt; a watercolor painting of Abram in Egypt; a poster of Warren's Requiem; and a small envelope containing unused Elinor Remick Warren bookplates.

BOX 50, 61, 63-65, 84 Writings, 1912-1991
Articles, diaries, essays, program notes, original poems and annotated poems of others, speeches, recording notes, repertoire lists, and radio scripts for classical music appreciation programs hosted by or featuring Warren that aired from 1938-1939.
Organized as five subseries. Entries are arranged either alphabetically or chronologically therein.

Articles, Essays, Poems, and Speeches, 1918-1990
Warren wrote a number of articles and essays on several topics, ranging from composer commentaries on specific works, such as her The Legend of King Arthur, to articles that expressed her thoughts on women in music. Other writings include addresses and speeches, a poem, and written descriptions of musical works.
Arranged chronologically.

Diaries, 1912-1991
Warren compiled several travel diaries during her long life. Beginning at the age of 12, she developed a life-long habit of documenting each European trip in the form of a daily diary. Her earliest diary documents her first trip abroad in which she first heard Wagner's Ring at Munich; subsequent trips detail her encounters with leading musicians and her experiences with her teacher Nadia Boulanger, whom she visited several times. Other diaries recount her experiences with performances of her works. Included as well are four general diaries from 1988-1991 that document her daily activities and contain miscellaneous records such as household-related data and health records. Arranged chronologically.

Program Notes, undated
Warren wrote her own program notes, revising them to conform to type of audience or venue. Her master copies of surviving program notes are found here, along with occasional brief notes related to revisions. Arranged alphabetically by title of work.

Radio Broadcast Scripts, 1938-1939
Scripts for three programs, all broadcast between 1938-1939, in which Warren either appeared as guest or host. These include Presenting the American Composer, D.A.R. American Artists Series Program, and the Elinor Remick Warren Program.

Recording Notes, 1960-1966, 1991
Several commercial recordings were issued between 1963 and 1993 that featured Warren's works. Warren provided detailed liner notes for commercial LPs, cassettes and compact disc insert booklets for these recordings. An additional recording of works by Lili Boulanger is also included as Warren made several annotations on the record jacket. Arranged chronologically by date of original issue.

BOX 69-73
Correspondence, circa 1910-1991
Letters to or from friends, performers, conductors, or music publishers and professional music organizations. Regrettably, Warren weeded her correspondence files in 1955, discarding most of her earlier material, believing the letters to be of no future interest. Arranged alphabetically by name of correspondent/organization, then chronologically therein.

BOX 58-60, 84
Photographs, 1895-1993
Images of Warren alone, 1901-1990; Warren with family, 1928-1982, and Warren's parents at the time of their wedding (1895); Warren with others (mostly well-known musical personalities); and inscribed photographs from well-known musical personalities, most of whom played a role in her career. Organized as five subseries. The first three subseries are arranged chronologically. The fourth is arranged alphabetically by surname.

BOX 61
Articles about Warren, 1926-1988
Articles, biographies, and clippings related to Warren's personal life, works, and performances. Arranged chiefly alphabetically by author surname.

BOX 61-62, 65, 75, 84
Biographical Materials, circa 1900-1991
Awards and honors, several autobiographical essays, an interview transcript by Virginia Bortin, a list of premieres of Warren's works, address and telephone books, and other miscellaneous writings and items. Arranged alphabetically by subject.

Address and Telephone Books, circa 1940s-1990
Three undated address books, as well as contact books devoted to musicians, musical organizations and other related professional contacts. Also included are several mailing lists. Arranged first by subject, then chronologically by date therein.
Programs, 1920s-2000s
Concert programs that feature Warren as a composer, as soloist, or accompanist. Arranged chronologically.

Publicity Materials, 1961-1987
Chiefly music publisher catalogs listing Warren's works, reviews, and other advertisements. Arranged alphabetically by subject, then chronologically therein.

Scrapbooks, circa 1922-1992
Warren's personal scrapbooks, each containing press clippings, reviews, programs featuring Warren's works or Warren as pianist, assisting artist, or accompanist, articles about Warren's professional and private life, and other materials. Scrapbooks documenting Warren's early career were disposed of by Warren shortly after her mother's death in 1958, believing that there would be no historical interest in retaining them. Later, the earliest scrapbooks (pre-1936) were re-constructed from duplicate clippings, reviews, programs, etc. still found in Warren's possessions, which were photocopied and re-assembled into a scrapbook. Diaries, 1912-1991

Warren compiled several travel diaries during her long life. Beginning at the age of 12, she developed a life-long habit of documenting each European trip in the form of a daily diary. Her earliest diary documents her first trip abroad in which she first heard Wagner's Ring at Munich; subsequent trips detail her encounters with leading musicians and her experiences with her teacher Nadia Boulanger, whom she visited several times. Other diaries recount her experiences with performances of her works. Included as well are four general diaries from 1988-1991 that document her daily activities and contain miscellaneous records such as household-related data and health records.

Arranged chronologically.

BOX-FOLDER 63/1

Radio Broadcast Scripts, 1938-1939

Scripts for three programs, all broadcast between 1938-1939, in which Warren either appeared as guest or host. These include Presenting the American Composer, D.A.R. American Artists Series Program, and the Elinor Remick Warren Program.

BOX-FOLDER 65/20 Presenting the American Composer (broadcast originated from Los Angeles over the Mutual Don Lee Network), April 8, 1938

Warren appeared on this show several months prior to hosting her own classical music program. The program appeared on April 8, 1938, 8:30 pm to 9:00 pm. The show was created by Frederick Stark, described as being an authority and champion of native composers; the annotator (interviewer) was Merle Armitage. The program was produced by Z. Wayne Griffin (Elinor Warren's husband) and was announced by Franklin Bingman.

Warren discussed Frolic of the elves and By a fireside and accompanied vocalist Ruth Felt in a performance of her song Who calls?. The studio orchestra then played Warren's work The Fountain, conducted by Frederick Stark.

BOX-FOLDER 65/21

D.A.R. American Artists Series Program (broadcast originated from Los Angeles over the Mutual Don Lee Network), December 18, 1938

This program was the first of a series of musical programs arranged by the Hollywood Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The featured artists on this broadcast were Warren and Ruthellen Miller, soprano. It was broadcast at 2:30 - 2:45 pm over the KHJ network. The program consisted of five of Warren's art songs: Who calls?; Snow towards evening; Down in the glen; Come away; and My parting gift.

Arranged chronologically by date.

Elinor Remick Warren Program (broadcast originated from Los Angeles over the Mutual Don Lee Network), October 30, 1938 - March 5, 1939

Broadcast Sunday afternoons at 4:00-4:30 pm. Warren hosted the show, wrote the scripts, selected the music featured on each program, and conducted her programs from the piano, where she often played selections. This music appreciation program's scripts are listed in chronological order, along with details regarding the musical selections played during each broadcast. Most of the broadcast scripts contain annotations, corrections and revisions to content; such changes were often done approximately two days prior to the broadcast.

Recording Notes, 1960-1966, 1991

Several commercial recordings were issued between 1963 and 1993 that featured Warren's works. Warren provided detailed liner notes for commercial LPs, cassettes and compact disc insert booklets for these recordings. An additional recording of works by Lili Boulanger is also included as Warren made several annotations on the record jacket. Arranged chronologically by date of original issue.

BOX-FOLDER 65/41 Works of Lili Boulanger (world premiere recording): Everest Records SDBR 3099 March 1960

The record inner sleeve notes contain annotations and other markings by Warren. Although Warren had no direct involvement with this recording, she had studied with Lili's surviving sister, Nadia Boulanger, at Paris the previous year (1959). The liner notes contain Warren's annotations, including a few musical notations.

Scrapbooks , circa 1922-1992
Warren's personal scrapbooks, each containing press clippings, reviews, programs featuring Warren's works or Warren as pianist, assisting artist, or accompanist, articles about Warren's professional and private life, and other materials. Scrapbooks documenting Warren's early career were disposed of by Warren shortly after her mother's death in 1958, believing that there would be no historical interest in retaining them. Later, the earliest scrapbooks (pre-1936) were re-constructed from duplicate clippings, reviews, programs, etc. still found in Warren's possessions, which were photocopied and re-assembled into a scrapbook. Arranged chronologically.

Books, 1900-1979

The majority of Warren's collection of music-related books and her extensive library of poetry books were gifted to the New York Public Library, circa 1994, prior to the family's final decision to donate the collection to the Library of Congress. These books are annotated by Warren or represent rare printings of works pertaining to her family's history. Several poetry books contain Warren's annotations, fragments of musical notation, and other markings on poems that became settings for her songs.

Arranged alphabetically by author surname.

BOX-FOLDER 67/1

Aiken, Conrad, compiler.

Annotated poems: Irradiations (author: unknown); Autumnal clouds (author: unknown); The Second walk in the garden (author: unknown); Blue symphony (author: unknown); and Green symphony (author: unknown)

Attached note from Bortin: "Here are the markings which show how [Warren] changed this text, printed in the score of Suite for orchestra. Still, the 2nd movement text is not here."

BOX-FOLDER 66/1

American Music Center, Inc.

Annotated by Warren; Warren's Good morning, America! is listed on page 87.

BOX-FOLDER 67/2

Browning, Robert.

Annotated by Warren (page 230)

BOX-FOLDER 67/3

Burns, Robert.

Annotated poems include: A red, red rose; Farewell to Nancy; accompanied by written notes by Virginia Bortin.

BOX-FOLDER 67/4

Carman, Bliss.

Annotated poem: In the day of battle.

Laid into the original volume: one typed poem (two pages) found by Virginia Bortin prior to sending the book to the New York Public Library.

BOX-FOLDER 67/5

Cecil, David.

Annotated poems: God be in my head (author: anonymous); and A Hymn on the seasons (author: James Thomson)

BOX-FOLDER 67/6

De La Mare, Walter.

Annotated poems: Hide and seek; The Little old cupid.

BOX-FOLDER 67/7

Drinkwater, John.

Inscribed by Warren's teacher - Gertrude Ross, Christmas, 1919.

BOX-FOLDER 67/8

Farjeon, Eleanor.
Sing for your supper. New York: Frederick A. Stokes Company, 1938.

Annotated poems: Nine red horsemen; This holy night.

BOX-FOLDER 67/9

Frost, Robert.

Annotated poems: The Road not taken; The Rose family; Two tramps in mud time; also, the table of contents (3 pages) contains several annotations/marks.

Several typed Frost poems are attached to the photocopy of the book's texts: October; The Road not taken; Acquainted with the night; Acceptance; Dust of snow; and Reluctance.

BOX-FOLDER 67/10

Hillyer, Robert.

Annotated poem text: XXth century.

BOX-FOLDER 67/11

Annotated texts: Genesis: 12-14; 20.

Warren used the texts from Genesis chapters 12-14, 20 for her work Abram in Egypt.

BOX-FOLDER 67/12

Annotated texts: Psalms 89, 108; Isaiah chapters 12, 25, 51, 55-56, 58, 63-64.

Warren also has notes found on the book’s endpages.

BOX-FOLDER 67/13

Huber, Miriam Blanton, editor.

Annotated poems: The Wonderful world (author: William Brighty Rands); The Night will never stay (author: Eleanor Farjeon)

BOX-FOLDER 67/14

Longfellow, Henry Wadsworth.

Annotated poem texts: Hymn to the night; A Psalm of life; The Building of the ship; The Song of Hiawatha: Hiawatha's departure.

BOX-FOLDER 67/15

Lucas, E. V., compiler.

Inscribed to Warren by Gertrude Ross, Christmas, 1920.

BOX-FOLDER 67/16

Methodist Church. Hymnal.

Annotated hymn (first line): Holy, holy, holy! Lord God almighty! (author: John B. Dykes)

Accompanying note from Bortin, regarding the last two pages of the hymnal where Warren had listed several hymns by number with the remark "I like." Bortin believed that these numbered hymns were Warren’s own choices for her funeral music; almost every hymn listed was later used at her funeral without having read these notations.

BOX-FOLDER 67/17

Millay, Edna St. Vincent.

Annotated poem texts: Sonnets nos. 7, 11, 35 and 50.
