LC Catalog record: <https://lccn.loc.gov/2014572460>

Summary: Hall Johnson was a choral conductor, composer, and arranger of spirituals. Through his arrangements, writings, and performances of the Hall Johnson Choir, he raised the profile of the African American spiritual as a significant art form. The collection contains holograph and manuscript scores for several of his compositions and arrangements, works by other composers, concert programs, scripts, and legal and financial papers related to his estate. Titles in this collection contain demeaning language.

Online Content: The Federal Theatre Project on the Library of Congress Web site contains posters and playbills for Run, Little Chillun.

Acquisition Information

Purchased from a manuscript dealer in 1999.

Custodial History

Upon his death, a small portion of Hall Johnson's papers became the property of Bessie J. Pruitt, the administrator of his estate. She transferred ownership to her accountant. Upon the accountant's death, the materials passed to his widow, and then to an unnamed party who consigned them to a manuscript dealer.

Accruals

No further accruals are expected.

Processing History

Jane Cross processed the Hall Johnson Papers and coded the finding aid in April 2022.

Transfers

Sixty-three discs (sound recordings) from the Hall Johnson Papers have been transferred to the Library of Congress Motion Picture, Broadcasting, and Recorded Sound Division where they are identified as the Hall Johnson Collection (MAVIS no. 17651). An inventory of this material is available in the Music Division's collection file.

Other Repositories

The National Museum of African American History and Culture holds the Hall Johnson Collection formerly curated by Dr. Eugene Thamon Simpson. The University of Georgia holds the Hall Johnson Photographs collection as well as his personal books and recordings, and the New York Public Library holds a Hall Johnson Portrait Collection as well as a collection of theater stills from Run, Little Chillun.

The Hall Johnson Collection at the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture contains correspondence, clippings, music, poetry, and notes. Emory University's Hall Johnson Collection includes clippings, photographs, programs, and scripts. The Hall Johnson Negro Choir Collection at the Museum of Performance and Design in San Francisco contains programs and publicity files.

Related Material

Seven arrangements by Hall Johnson can be found in the Jessye Norman Papers, while the Leonard B. Smith Papers contain two arrangements. The Oscar Hammerstein II Collection contains correspondence with Johnson. Production records for Johnson's folk opera Run, Little Chillun can be found in the Federal Theatre Project Collection.

Johnson's Thirty Negro Spirituals is cataloged in M1670.J63 T5, and his Green Pastures Spirituals are cataloged in M1513.J6 G72. A score for piano for his work "Honor! Honor!" is cataloged in M1671.J and his work "Swing Dat Hammer!" can be found in M2093.J. Programs for The Green Pastures are cataloged in PN2093.A44 1877.
