Provenance

Gift; Alan Applebaum, Zach Church, Beth Manitsky; 2010; (PR 13 CN 2010:202).

Processing History

The Marilyn Church collection of courtroom art was processed by Sara Duke and the Junior Fellows Summer Interns: Tyson Koenig, Jennifer Nolan, and Hannah Slater in 2011. Finding aid encoded by Kristen Sosinski in November 2020.

Every effort was made to separate drawings into the appropriate trials and to be accurate in representing Marilyn Church's record. There may be some drawings on which a name appears that does not appear to be part of a trial. It could be that in looking at a particular drawing, the Library of Congress felt that the name was placed on a drawing that best represents the trial in which it was categorized. However, some errors may have occurred in our organization of the collection. Alternate titles were transcribed by Library staff from an inventory provided by the artist.

Not all of the groups of material are described at the same level of detail. Additional materials that form the Marilyn Church collection of courtroom art not included in this finding aid are listed below. ## Biographical Note Marilyn Church, born 1940 in New York City, is an artist. She studied at Pratt Institute (Brooklyn, New York) and Indiana University. Initially working as a fashion illustrator and art educator, in 1974 she began a long career as a courtroom artist after a prosecutor suggested the idea to her. She has covered high profile cases for The New York Times, ABC News, and other major networks. She cites Honoré Daumier and Francisco Goya as her influences. Now, she focuses her attention on painting and exhibiting her work in art galleries.

Scope and Content Note

Trials with 100 or more drawings include the World Trade Center/Landmarks trial (1993), "the Central Park Jogger" trial (1990), the pre-Watergate trial of John Mitchell and Maurice Stans (1974), the "preppy murder" trial of Robert Chambers (1987), and the murder trial of the physician, Mario Jasclevich, known as "Dr. X" (1978). Also featured in the collection are drawings relating to the prosecution of organized crime (1977-2008) including the Bonanno, Colombo, Gambino, Genovese, and Lucchese families as well as the Mafia Commission trial (1985-1986), and the "Pizza Connection Trial" (1986).

Arrangement

The Marilyn Church collection of courtroom art is arranged alphabetically into 567 subdivisions, including 4 miscellaneous or non-trial subdivisions. Within each subdivision, items are arranged in item number sequence. Names of subdivisions are most commonly names of defendant(s), but often also names of victims, phrases by which the trial was well known in the media, or other descriptions of trials' content. Some subdivisions contain multiple trials, including those that went to the state and federal appeals courts, with the same defendant(s) or arising from the same incident.
