Biographical Note

Janet Flanner was born March 13, 1892 in Indianapolis, Indiana. She attended the University of Chicago from 1912-1913. In 1917, she was hired as drama editor for the Indianapolis Star. In 1918, she married William Lane Rehm and moved to New York. The marriage would end in divorce in 1926. Flanner was decorated by the French Legion of Honor for discovering looted French art in Germany in 1947. She received an honorary D.Litt. from Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts in 1958.

Solita Solano, christened Sarah Wilkinson, was born in 1888 in Troy, New York. She attended Emma Willard School in Troy and later Sacred Heart Convent. In 1904, she eloped with Oliver Filley whose career as an engineer took them to live in China, Japan, and the Philippines. In 1908, Solano moved to New York City and later to Boston where she worked for the Boston Journal. From 1914-1917, she worked for the Boston Traveler as a drama editor. By 1918, her marriage had been annulled and she moved back to New York City to join the New York Tribune newspaper.

Flanner and Solano met in New York City. In 1921, they traveled to Europe together when Solano was given some overseas assignments with the National Geographic magazine. They settled in Paris together in 1922 among the American expatriates on the Left Bank. In 1925, Flanner established a long-term professional assignment with the New Yorker magazine as a foreign correspondent. Flanner became one of the most influential American writers on the Left Bank. Using her pseudonym 'Genêt', she wrote a 'Letter from Paris' for 50 years, as a biweekly publication in the New Yorker. Flanner wrote about Paris life for Americans, chronicling events and people. From 1926-1975, Flanner published a number of books and articles. For 2 years, 1944-1946, Flanner did broadcast journalism in Paris for a weekly radio show called "Listen: The Women." Solano wrote several books, including novels and poems, between the years 1924-1934. Solano was the key editor of all Flanner's professional writings throughout their lives. Solano was also the keeper of the scrapbook volumes and photographs, which she and Flanner jointly donated to the Library of Congress. Solano and Flanner both remained active writing up until their deaths in 1975 and 1978, respectively.

For more extensive biographies see the Manuscript Division's finding aid for the Janet Flanner and Solita Solano papers, 1870-1976.

Scope and Content Note

The photographic materials from the scrapbooks of journalist Janet Flanner and Solita Solano span the years 1870-1968, with the bulk of the material concentrated in the period 1920-1968. The scrapbooks originally consisted of six volumes which contained photographs, letters, clippings, poems, and other miscellaneous items. These volumes were microfilmed by the Manuscript Division for preservation considerations. The photographs were then removed and transferred to the Prints and Photographs Division. There are many individual and group portraits, mostly informal. Most people are identified and many images have brief hand-written captions.

The images document the lives and careers of Flanner and Solano -- two American expatriate women who lived in Paris between the world wars and who both contributed significantly to the historical and literary identity of America. Their collective contributions of journalistic essays, critical essays, prose, poetry, and memoirs provide a continuous account of literary thought from a woman's perspective between 1900 and 1940. Both Flanner and Solano were particularly interested in promoting the cumulative achievements of their women friends as avant-garde authors, poets, painters, bookshop and salon owners, 'little magazine' editors, publishers, and photographers. Noteworthy in this circle of friends are photographers Berenice Abbott, Henri Cartier-Bresson, Philippe Halsman, Horst P. Horst, George Hoyningen-Huene, George Platt Lynes, Curtis Moffat, and Carl Van Vechten, editor Margaret Anderson, publisher Nancy Cunard, editor Jane Heap, opera singer Georgette Leblanc, author Carson McCullers, writer Gertrude Stein, and publisher Alice B. Toklas, who are all represented in the visual materials.

Also documented are many prominent literary and artistic individuals who were friends and acquaintances of Flanner and Solano, such as Enrico Caruso, Ernest Hemingway, Russell Page, Francis Rose, and James Thurber. Other friends and associates also include Dorothy Caruso, Elizabeth Jenks Clark, Isak Dinesen, Georges I. Gurdjieff, Kathryn Hulme, Georgette Leblanc, Mary McCarthy, Noel Haskins Murphy, and Olga Petrova. Assorted visual images found with the scrapbooks are drawings, watercolor sketches, prints, and miscellaneous photographs, some of which are gift presentations to Flanner. The images provide a retrospective, yet an intimate insight into intellectual life in New York City and Paris during the first half of the 20th century.

The collection includes tintypes, some sketches, drawings, and many prints. A blind stamp with the photographer's name appear on many photos and a photographer's stamp on versos of many. There are a number of different types of variants, i.e. cropped differently to produce variations in image content and size differences (e.g. where one is 8x10 and the other is 4x5) found within the materials. Most photographs are identified and dated.

Arrangement

The Visual materials from the Janet Flanner and Solita Solano papers is predominantly filed in LOT 13259, Photographs of Janet Flanner and Solita Solano, their families, friends, and career associates; however one photograph by Berenice Abbott is filed separately in the PH filing series, which contains individual photographic prints of great aesthetic, technical, or historic importance.

LOT 13259 (H) is organized in close approximation of original scrapbook album order. Visual materials were basically in order by volume and page number. The container list describes two sections: Subject and Miscellaneous. The Subject section is listed alphabetically by the sitter's surname, while the Miscellaneous section is listed alphabetically by the title. In places where a sitter has both a married and maiden name, or a pen name, a cross-reference has been provided. If known, the year of the image is included.

Each image in volumes 21-23, and 26 corresponds to the handwritten page number in the scrapbook, usually found in the upper right corner of the page. For volumes 24 and 25, images correspond to the microfilm frame number located at the bottom of the page, as the scrapbook page number was either illegible or not annotated at all. All volumes are organized sequentially in 3-ring notebooks by page or frame number. Notebooks consist of a mixture of protective pages in assorted sizes which match different image sizes. In cases where there were no images on the original scrapbook page, a "blank" placeholder has been inserted in the notebook.
